

REBELS TO MARCH ON MEXICO CITY

HARVARD AND YALE IN
ANNUAL TRACK MEET

Yale is Favorite in 23rd Annual Track Meet—Harvard Varsity Nine at Philadelphia—Athletes of Four Maine Colleges Clash at Lewiston

CAMBRIDGE, May 16.—Three varsity teams came here today to compete with Harvard representatives, while the Harvard varsity nine went to Philadelphia and the freshman track team to New Haven. Interest centered in the 23rd annual track meet between Harvard and Yale, with Yale a pronounced favorite. Of the previous meets Harvard has won 12 and Yale 10. The Crimson won in 1912 but Yale was the victor last year at New Haven.

The strength of the Yale team today lay in the field events and some of the middle distance runs. Harvard's greatest hopes were in the sprints, the two mile run and in the hurdles. Capt. Barron's good showing at Ithaca last week gave Harvard supporters confidence that he would put up a stiff contest today against Cornell in the hundred yard and 220 yard dashes. The quarter mile run was regarded as likely to be one of the most closely contested events with Bingham of Harvard and Wilkie of Yale the leading runners.

Yale also sent her championship class crew to row against the Harvard winning class crew on the Charles.

The lacrosse championship of the northern division was scheduled to be played between Cornell and Harvard, and the Princeton and Harvard tennis teams were to meet.

ATHLETES OF FOUR MAINE COL-
LEGES STRUGGLE FOR HONORS
AT LEWISTON

LEWISTON, Me., May 16.—Fair weather favored the athletes of the four Maine colleges who struggled for honors today at their 20th annual championship meet.

University of Maine was ready with 21 men to make a strong fight to retain the championship which it has held during two of the last three years. Maine's chief competitor was Colby rather than Bates with which the fight has been during this period. Bowdoin, formerly so strong, was expected to contest with Bates for third place.

The selection of the exact events in which the Maine men should compete was rendered difficult through the cancelling of the annual dual meet with Bates last Saturday. This was needed to determine a number of doubtful cases.

The trials were held during the forenoon and were to be concluded in the afternoon.

U. S. SENDS SHARP
NOTE TO HUERTA

President Wilson and Advisers Await Answer to Note Demanding News on Fate of Parks—Vice Consul Silliman Safe—Huerta's Delegates Reach Washington—Plans for Conference

WASHINGTON, May 16.—While Huerta's delegates to the Niagara Falls conference were hurrying northward to the capital today, President Wilson and his advisers awaited an answer to the demand on federal officials in Mexico City for news of the fate of Parks, the American soldier, who, in full uniform, strayed into Huerta's lines while publicly attempting to escape. Some reports stated Parks had been executed and others declared his body had been burned.

The note for Huerta, declaring that unless information of the fate of Parks immediately was given the American government would consider it an unfriendly and hostile act, followed in the last message drafted by President Wilson and Secretary Bryan, was sent to the Brazilian minister in Mexico City. He was requested to take it up with Huerta to explain the strong feelings of the Washington government over the incident and to make vigorous representations for a definite reply.

Vice Consul is Safe
As the Parks case assumed threatening proportions, another stumbling block in the path of mediation was moved. That was the report to the British embassy from Sir Lionel Cullen in Mexico City stating John R. Silliman, the American vice consul over whose safety there had been grave fears, was on his way from Saltillo to Mexico City. There, it was assumed he would be turned over to the Brazilian legation for safe conduct to the American lines at Vera Cruz. Silliman had been arrested by federal officials, and although he was reported to have been on his way to Mexico City several days ago, nothing definite had been heard of him until late last night.

Rebels Renew Assurance
The two day's postponement of the mediation conference had the effect of leading interest centered in the movements of the constitutionalists at Tampico and plans for their southern campaign. Reports received from President Carranza's headquarters indicated that the constitutionalists had renewed their assurance of protection for American lives and property at Tampico.

Villa to Attack Saltillo
The constitutionalists already have moved to avail themselves of the advantages of their first report. One of Carranza's confidential agents was quoted as saying that a large shipment of French guns was ready to be moved toward Tampico.

When the embargo on arms recently was removed at the Grande points, it was said the army department duplicated it or the president issued a general prohibition, the constitutionalists can get all the ammunition from the United States they want if they ship it through Tampico.

Rebels to March on Capital
Coupled with Villa's activity south of Torreon was Carranza's statement issued at Durango that his general in chief expected to assault Saltillo in a day or two and that while strong opposition was expected yet the outcome was not in doubt. Villa had disposed his troops near Hidalgo for the march on Saltillo. Gen. Torres, operating about San Luis Potosi, was expected to attack that federal stronghold immediately. In case of a double victory, it appeared the constitutionalists intended to concentrate about San Luis Potosi and thence march on the march on Huerta's capital.

Huerta Delegates Arrive Today
Recent alarming reports over the possibility that Zapata might leave his base at Mexico City were tempered by Gen. Carranza's statement, which mentioned Zapata much in the same terms as references to the activities of Torres and Villa.

The Huerta delegates to the mediation conference were to arrive here at 1:30 o'clock today. During their journey from Key West the diplomats have received several delegations of newspaper men, but their lips have been sealed beyond saying that they had "full power to act."

The trio of senior American envoys and the American mission are relieved for Niagara Falls Sunday and it is confidently expected there will be nothing to delay the formal opening of the conference on Wednesday. The Parks case, it was believed, would be cleared before that time.

ENGINEER T. C. B. SNELL OF FIRE UNDERWRITERS

Reports Having Completed Survey of Fire Protection in Lowell—Will Recommend Extension of Fire District and Changes in Building Code

Mr. T. C. B. Snell, president of the delegation of engineers from the National Fire Underwriters' association, called upon Mayor Murphy this morning to say that he and his men had completed their investigations as to the conditions of fire protection in this city.

It is but a few years since this board made a general survey of conditions in this city and recommended a considerable number of changes, most of which have since been put into effect. Mr. Snell admitted to Mayor Murphy that while many improvements had been made in the direction of fire prevention and the protection of life and property yet he believed that much remains to be done and he invited that in the forthcoming report of the engineers which is expected in about a month, a great many important recommendations will be made. Among these will undoubtedly be an extension of the fire district, improvements in the building code and the elimination of firemen who on account of age are unable to give efficient service.

The delegation came to Lowell at the request of the board of trade and will make its report to that body. Mr. Snell in conversation with Mayor Murphy this morning expressed his appreciation of the uniform courtesy shown him and the other engineers since their arrival in the city. The impression conveyed by Mr. Snell's remarks was that while there is much room for improvement in the matter of fire protection, still he has found the fire department to be up to the average in efficiency while possessing many points of excellence and the same may be assumed of the water supply so far as pressure for fire service is concerned.

The delegation now goes to South Carolina.

MAN SENT TO JAIL

FOR ATTEMPTED ROBBERY
NEAR POSTOFFICE—SNATCHED
WATCH AND FIGHT ENSUED

There was a lively scuffle on Middlesex street, near Postoffice avenue, last evening and as a result one William D. Johnson, a young man about 20 years of age, was arraigned in police court this forenoon charged with assault and battery upon Jonathan D. Bettecourt.

The complaint alleges that he was walking through an alley near Middlesex street, last evening and a young man whom he did not know accosted him and took a watch from his vest pocket. Bettecourt would not stand for the robbery and he demanded his watch back. However, the defendant was not willing to give back the watch, he claims, and a fight resulted. The complainant claims that Johnson hit him over the head and then took a small knife out of his pocket and during the affray tried to stab him, cutting a hole in his coat.

Officer Cullen testified to seeing the crowd in that vicinity and was informed by a person on the street that Johnson had assaulted Bettecourt.

The defendant told a different story altogether. He said that he came to this city from Lincoln, N. H., last evening, and was on his way to Tewksbury to go to work. He stated that he was passing through an alley when he was struck on the head by an unknown person and knocked insensible. The court was not inclined to believe the latter story, however, and Johnson was sent to jail for the term of three months.

Stubborn Child

Theodore Brunelski was brought in to court this morning on a complaint issued by his father charging him with being a stubborn child. Mr. Brunelski testified that his son has refused to look for work for many weeks and at times had assaulted him because he insisted upon him going to work. Theodore, who is 19 years of age, said that he would go to Boston if released and would interfere with his father's affairs no more. He was placed on probation for six months.

Dennis P. Curtin made his second appearance for drunkenness and was asked to pay a fine of $5.00. John O'Brien, who appeared to be drunk and out, asked to be sent to the state farm and his request was granted.

TO HOLD PARADE

Portuguese Colony to Celebrate Feast With Splendid Ceremonies

The Portuguese colony of Lowell is on the height of expectancy at present in anticipation of the solemn celebration of the annual festival of Santa Christo, which will take place tomorrow on an unprecedented scale, under the general direction of the parish societies, particularly Council No. 10, Marquês de Pavia e Alentejo. For several years past the people of St. Anthony's have made the annual festival a day of rejoicing and solemn religious ceremony but tomorrow's event promises to outstep all previous affairs of the nature in its completeness and in the perfection of its details. The community in charge of arrangements has left no stone unturned in its desire to make the day memorable, and particular praise is due Manuel M. Santos, president, Frank Tavares, secretary, Jose E. Branco, and the many others who have shown so much interest.

A parade will be held in the morning, starting from the South common at 10 o'clock, and proceeding through South, Middlesex, Gorman streets and through Davis square to St. Anthony's, where the religious ceremony will be held at 11 o'clock.

A large mass will be celebrated and a sermon on the occasion will be preached by Rt. Rev. Bishop da Silva. The music will be particularly stirring as a special program has been in preparation for some time past. Following the religious ceremony, the parade will reform and go through Central, North, Lawrence, Charles, Central, Merrimack, Tilden, Moody, Merrimack, Central and Middlesex streets.

At the head of the parade will march a representation from the Lowell police department, followed by the chief marshal Vicente Silva and his Adjutant Manuel da Ponte Carriosa. They will follow the reception committee headed by Manuel C. Sousa and Manuel P. Sousa. Then will come the five divisions of the parade, each headed by a band and consisting for the most part of representatives of the various consuls of Marquês de Pavia e Alentejo. The mayor and representatives will also ride and many men prominent in local affairs and representing the press and other departments of civic activity.

On Hands and Wrists. Could Not Put Hands in Water or Do Work. Lost Many Nights of Sleep. Cuticura Soap and Ointment Cured.

Albany, Vt.—"My trouble began by breaking out like rash. It was on my hands and wrists and itched and burned so that I would have to scratch it. I could not put my hands in water or do my work. The trouble caused me to lose a good many nights of sleep. The trouble lasted a month or two until I heard of Cuticura Soap and Ointment. I washed my hands and wrists with Cuticura Soap and dried them well and then I would apply the Cuticura Ointment on them. I used the Cuticura Soap and Ointment about two weeks and I saw at once that the disease began to leave and in three weeks and a half it was completely cured." (Signed) Mrs. Isaiah Boutah, Jr., Jan. 1, 1913.

BABY'S RASH LIKE BLISTERS

No. Watford, Me.—"Our baby broke out on his feet, legs and hands. It appeared as a rash but soon looked like blisters on his feet and hands. He scratched a good deal and was very cross and fretful night and day for several weeks. We had used remedies which seemed to do no good. We used hot water and Cuticura Soap then applied Cuticura Ointment every night for three weeks. Two cases of the Cuticura Soap and two boxes of the Cuticura Ointment completely cured him." (Signed) Ernest Brown, Jan. 30, 1913.

Cuticura Soap 25c and Cuticura Ointment 50c, are sold everywhere. Liberal sample of each mailed free, with 32-p. Skin Book. Address post-card "Cuticura, Dept. T, Boston."

SNAPSHOTS OF MEXICAN MEDIATORS LEAVING VERA CRUZ FOR THE A. B. C. CONFERENCE

HOUSE DEMOCRATS FROM THE BAY STATE UNANIMOUSLY EN- DORSE SALEM MAN FOR OFFICE

WASHINGTON, May 15.—Eight Massachusetts democrats in the house met yesterday and unanimously endorsed Michael L. Sullivan of Salem for United States district attorney. This is practically without precedent for Massachusetts democrats in congress. As one of them remarked last evening: "The important news in this is that eight Massachusetts democrats of some prominence have been able to agree on anything." A committee consisting of Messrs. Murray and Phelan was designated to inform AUG. McReynolds of the wishes of the delegation.

The interesting test will now come as to whether the administration has regard for a unanimous recommendation from the elected congressmen. The eight are very hopeful themselves that Mr. McReynolds will assent forthwith to the nomination of Mr. Sullivan. They took several ballots be-

He was born in Salem, Nov. 10, 1879, and was graduated from the Salem high school, from which he entered Boston University law school, graduating in June, 1897. He was admitted to the Suffolk county bar in August following.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., May 15.—A message from President Wilson and an address by Francis B. Sayre, son-in-law of the president, were features of a banquet given by the Kansas City Commercial club last night.

The message from the president, read at the banquet, follows:

WASHINGTON, May 15.—With thousands of Irish-Americans already here and others arriving on every train, all was in readiness for the unveiling of the statue of John Barry of Revolutionary time and the ceremonies incident thereto.

Practically every section of the country was represented. There were large delegations of the Friendly Sons of St. Patrick and the Ancient Order of Hibernians from Boston, New York, and other cities and several western and southern states. Estimates placed the number of visitors here at upwards of 50,000.

A military and civic parade was to follow the unveiling. The president would deliver a brief address at the unveiling and review the parade was made at the White House and proceeded to all the members of the cabinet, the diplomatic corps, members of the supreme court and of congress, and the house of representatives. The house of representatives met at 2 o'clock in order that members might attend the unveiling and the senate was expected to take similar action.

FOR HAGGERTY'S FAMILY

CAMBRIDGE THEATRES WILL GIVE PROCEEDS OF TOMORROW'S CONCERTS

CAMBRIDGE, May 17.—Sacred concerts, the proceeds to go to Michael Haggerty, the father of Corp. Daniel A. Haggerty, who lies buried in the "honor lot" in the Cambridge cemetery, will be held Sunday evening in the Seaside Temple and the Olympic theatre, Cambridge. Since the death of their son and brother at Vera Cruz the family has been cut off from the regular weekly sum that Haggerty used to send from his pay as a marine on the U. S. S. Florida.

Meanwhile prominent citizens of the city are planning a statue memorial to place upon the grave to be properly inscribed, giving a lesson in patriotism to all who will view it.

Yesterday the Haggerty grave was adorned with flowers from all parts of the United States. One of the tributes, a floral spray of roses and pink, came from Timothy Murphy, a blue-jacket, who was near Haggerty when he fell at Vera Cruz, hit by a Mexican bullet. Murphy, himself, was wounded in the fight at the landing and when he heard of Haggerty's death he asked his mother to send a tribute.

CONCORD, N. H., May 15.—Before another week has passed Harry K. Thaw will end his eight months' sojourn at the Eagle hotel in this city. His custodian, Sheriff Holman A. Drew of Coos county, is also grand master of the Masonic Grand lodge of New Hampshire which meets here next week, and he and his charge will remain here for his seasons.

Following his adjournment Drew and Thaw will be the guests of Police Officer Clark D. Stevens of this city, who has been Thaw's roommate and constant companion since his landing on Long Island. There they will go to summer, accepting an invitation to visit Commodore W. A. Halsey of Newark, N. J., at his lakeside home. About June 1 Drew, Stevens and Thaw leave for the Mount Madison house, Gorham, probably for a large part of the summer. Sheriff Drew's home, and is one of the gateways to the White Mountain country.

TO ANALYZE LIQUOR

THE STATE BOARD AUTHORIZED BY LAW TO ANALYZE SAMPLES SUBMITTED BY AUTHORITIES

The number of drunken offenders in police court and the statements of policemen and jail-keepers to the effect that the quality of liquor sold in the drug shops in Lowell is far below standard makes it incumbent upon the local authorities to do a little investigation.

The quality of the liquor is reflected, too, so the authorities say, in the number of delirium tremens cases and there have been many more of these than the public have known anything about, cases developing at the hospitals and in the city.

It is up to the local board of health or the license commission, or both, to see to it that the liquor sold in this city is not loaded with poison. There is a new law now in force to enable the authorities to detect bad liquor.

On the fifth day of this month the following act relative to the analyzing of intoxicating liquors was approved:

Section 1. The state board of health shall hereafter analyze all samples of intoxicating liquors submitted to it for that purpose by any licensing authority, board of health, or police department of any city or town. Such analysis shall be made for the purpose of ascertaining the presence of any poisonous drugs, or other substances dangerous to health.

Section 2. This act shall take effect upon its passage.

(Approved May 5, 1914.)

DIED IN FISHING BOAT

INQUEST IN CAUSE OF DEATH OF MAN BELIEVED TO BE C. C. BAKER CONSIDERED

NANTUCKET, May 15.—Chronicles attending the death in a fishing boat off Nantucket today of a man believed to be Edward C. Baker of Providence, R. I., were of such a nature that an inquest into the cause was convened by the authorities. The man was about 40 years old and is said to have been a fisherman.

Baker, apparently in the last of health, left on a fishing trip with Capt. Samuel Russell, in a lobster boat two days ago. The body was brought ashore today by Arthur McChesney, a dory fisherman.

There was no indication the death was due to violence but Medical Examiner Roberts decided to hold an inquest to determine the cause.

SAY OUIMET MADE MISTAKE IN ENTERING MATCHES PRIOR TO BIG GAMES

OUIMET WATCHING HILTON HOLE OUT.

Francis Oumet has been severely criticized by golfing authorities in this country for taking active part in the match play previous to the big British championships. The young star was badly beaten by Harold Hilton in a seventy-four hole match for the famous gold cup. This of course tended to shake his confidence and make him worry over his showing in the championships. Travers, on the other hand, stayed at Sandwich and continued to practice with the wooden chips.

PITCHER LOHMAN

In spite of remarkably fine pitching by "Texas" Lohman, the champions cast another game into the discard yesterday when they went down to defeat before their own mistakes rather than superior work by Worcester. The final score read 5-1 and not one of Burket's runs were earned. This fact shows conclusively in what quarter lay the blame.

Manager Gray tried out Smith at short yesterday and up to the ninth inning the new infielder went along in great style. Two errors in this session, however, looked rather bad, but his work on the whole was good. He showed great speed and beat out two infield hits, scoring Lowell's lone tally.

First Inning
Neither side scored in the first inning. Carroll flied out to Pottelger in right center. Shorten doubled to the right field fence, but Stimpson got Strands' fly to short left and Mundy's fly to deep left. No runs. For Lowell only three men faced Van Dyke. DeGroff flied out to Strands. DeGroff grounded to Mundy and Kelly hit a grounder to Ross, who threw him out at first. No runs.

Second Inning
Ross hit to Burke and went out at first. Smith made a fine play on Stewart's slow grounder and threw him out at first. Smith ran into short left and got Cooney's fly. No runs. For Lowell's Greenhalge flied out to McCune. Lohman sent a long fly to Carroll. DeGroff singled to right field and Smith attempted to score on the play, but was caught by a close call at the plate. No runs.

Fourth Inning
Shorten hit to Kelly and was out. Strands singled to right field. Mundy hunted in front of the plate and Stimpson threw him out at the plate. Strands going to second on the play. Ross hit a grounder that Lohman knocked down and Smith flied to first getting the runner. No runs. DeGroff went out on a grounder to Ross. LADY LOOKABOUT

It is a reflection on the American people that their morbid curiosity should lead to the enactment of such a law as that which the Legislature of Massachusetts has just passed, whereby the remains of General Hagerly lay in state, previous to his burial.

In the confusion which resulted from the death of General Hagerly, and men were kneeling down and trampled upon. Twelve soldiers on guard were helpless; twenty police officers were equally helpless; at length a military company, armed with rifles, were ordered to keep the crowd back. The crowd that passed through the cemetery, and while every head seemed to have been turned toward the grave, the soldiers were in vain, and at length a military band, playing a dirge, was ordered to march in front of the grave, and the crowd followed them. The soldiers were in vain, and at length a military band, playing a dirge, was ordered to march in front of the grave, and the crowd followed them.

Another Knack

Not even a potent power, with a thrill in every line, and a very delicate touch to inspire, can make us realize and feel the majesty of the previous work. In fact, it emphasizes the majesty of the work, and a person who has read a poem like the one entitled "Hagerly," is also capable of looking at a picture of a soldier, and seeing in it the majesty of the work, and a person who has read a poem like the one entitled "Hagerly," is also capable of looking at a picture of a soldier, and seeing in it the majesty of the work.

attempting his own poem, or that something of the lines reveals an occasional extra foot, but this perhaps is pardonable under the laws of poetic license under which some minor poets seek to justify their shortcomings.

The Status of Women

One thing which more than any other, stands prominently for progress during the last decade, is the changing attitude of society toward women and her position in society. It has been argued that women surrounded by every advantage of birth, social standing, and education, have failed to rise to positions of eminence; it may be true, as someone has recently pointed out, that since the beginning of time, only ten women have figured prominently in the drama of the world's history. We grant all this, but we insist there is a reason beyond the old claim that women are weak and therefore incapable; the real reason is that she is a woman and therefore, by common consent, incapacitated. Not so with men. Even though in his early life his position be that of a newsboy, or foot-lack, or a rail splitter, in time, no matter how lowly his birth, how humble his station, how great his occupation, how few his resources, he knows that if he chooses to aspire to a position of eminence, it is, to use a slang expression, "up to him" providing, of course that he has a little more than average brains. He may find his reason to a star with ingenuity, knowing that according to the standards of the day, that while he may be heavily handicapped in the race, he is in the race, and that the attitude of society toward him is not adverse. Gradually society is coming to view the position of women.

The Letter Carrier

Surely a letter carrier who is not handicapped with those pretty now caps must be plain indeed. Boyish and jaunty, I feel quite sure that another reason will see the fashionable girl wearing them. To be sure she will moderate its plainness with a flower, a wing, a bunch of fruit, or a rosette of ribbon with trailing, things that men pretend to despise but which I am sure they love just as much as we girls do, only they are ashamed to own it. Have you noticed the tiny feather, no larger than a blade of grass, which some have long affected? And the brilliancy of the coloring of that tiny feather? If they only dared, what plumage they would love to wear. And the modest little bow, so long worn flat on the side of the head, is now crawling around the crown toward the back; it is no longer flat, but quite fluffy looking. Straws tell which way the wind blows. If they only dared to express the courage of their convictions, they would outlive Joseph's coat in brilliancy of coloring in their dress.

The Park Board

It is with happy anticipation many are looking for the return of Mr. Harvey Greene to the park commission. Particularly is this feeling of anticipation increased in the schools among both teachers and pupils. I doubt there is a school in the city which has not received from the hands of Mr. Greene, trees, shrubs, plants and seeds. He has sought continually, not only to beautify the school grounds of the city, but to teach the children through example and precept to inculcate in the children a love and respect for the means by which he sought to accomplish "The City Beautiful." Should the position be again offered, teachers hope he will find his reason to a star with ingenuity, knowing that according to the standards of the day, that while he may be heavily handicapped in the race, he is in the race, and that the attitude of society toward him is not adverse. Gradually society is coming to view the position of women.

Awakening Childhood's Dreams

Have you ever considered that of all the senses, that of sound leaves the most lasting impressions? I have a friend who has recently had placed in one of the upper rooms of her home a small wood stove, long discarded, which had been used to heat the chamber occupied by her and her sister when they were children in their father's home. The wood used is fed to the stove through a large round opening in the top. Every time the lid is added to the fire, and the lid replaced, the sound of the scraping iron brings back to her memory the days of her childhood, when she and her little sister, now long dead, night after night were tucked into bed by their mother, who then sat on the bedside and told them a story. As she left the room she replenished the fire and invariably rattled the lid against the stove. This was over forty years ago, but the sound of the rattling lid never fails to recall those childhood days. The incident related above, intimating the power of suggestion by sound, was brought to me more forcibly to my mind by an oft-repeated experience of my own, at the same time.

This morning, as I lay in my bed, happily conscious that I was most comfortable, and that it was spring, a sudden burst of melody from the tiny throat of a song-sparrow in my garden, met my drowsy ears. In an instant I was a child again. Back on the wings of memory I was carried to the little cottage of my birth, and to another spring morning. Sandwiched between two small brothers, my heart in my mouth, I sat astride the broad back of our old farm horse as he plodded along, my father holding the plow handles. Behind him, the plowing horse, followed a flock of heavily laden, puncheon-buried, on the astonished view. In the doorway of the kitchen stood our mother, happiness and peaceful content shining from her face as she looked upon us. The manly shoulders of my elder brother (he was eight) loomed high and massive before me, by turning my head slightly to one side and looking upward and backward, very far. It seemed to me, I could catch an occasional glimpse of the head of my mother, a head with a brilliant aureole of hair, bright and splendid as the sun. I did not need to look back to assure myself of his proximity; a rib-cracking embrace never loosening for an instant, and exerted as much for his own safety as mine, was a constant reminder of his presence. On the top of his head, a garbly old pear tree, which appeared like an aged coquette with its leaves of blossoms, puzzlingly suggestive of youth, and whose bitter, puckering, but much loved fruit always gave us headaches, perched a song-sparrow, singing with all his tiny might, over us and about us, shone the bright sun, so long reluctant to dispel the frosts of winter, now trying to make his peace with us.

"All are scattered now, and dead. Some are married, some are dead."

This is the picture the voice of the song-sparrow brought to me this morning. Just as it has many times before, and as I am sure it always will wherever I may hear it.

SENATORS ALMOST FIGHT

DEBATE OVER EXTERMINATION OF PRAIRIE DOGS BECOMES BATTERED HEATED

WASHINGTON, May 15.—Senators Bristow and Ashurst, who almost came to blows in the senate over Mr. Ashurst's telegraph account last year, glared at each other again yesterday during the debate on the provision in the agricultural appropriation bill for money for the destruction of the prairie dog. Mr. Ashurst charged Mr. Bristow with falsifying and was called to order by the presiding officer.

Mr. Ashurst offered an amendment increasing by $5000 the item for the extermination of prairie dogs and other pests. Mr. Bristow, protesting, laughingly saying that farmers in Kansas could kill prairie dogs without the aid of the government by pouring hot water in their holes or burrows. The amendment was rejected.

"The senator who says my amendment for that, prairie has his beads at the root of his tongue," retorted Mr. Ashurst hotly. "The senator falsifies it," he says, that it is my purpose; he did falsify."

"The senator is out of order, and must take his seat," said the presiding officer.

"Of course he is out of order," shouted Mr. Ashurst, pounding heavily on his desk, "but he repeats everything he said."

Mr. Bristow declared that he did not intend offense and friends brought the two senators together.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

ROCKEFELLER'S HEALTH

The health of William Rockefeller seems to be very precarious whenever there is any desire on the part of the officials of the government that he testify. While we do not wish to be harsh in our judgment or to minimize the grief he may have at death in his family or other causes of illness, it would seem that if the millionaire oil man can help the government by his testimony he ought to be compelled to give it in some way just as Bill Jones or Tom Brown would have to.—Newburyport Herald.

THE STRENUOUS LIFE

Secretary of Commerce Radford tells the students at Brown university that "both the hustler and the apostle of strenuousness in effort have become back numbers in their methods. They are today in the same category with him who 'also ran.'" This, also, will not endorse the present democratic administration to Col. Roosevelt.—Manchester Union.

administration to Col. Roosevelt.—Manchester Union.

SWIFT'S "ARMY"

One would think that Morrison I. Swift would be chagrined, if there is any such possibility in his nature, by the way that Mayor Curley countered upon him in the matter of the "army of the unemployed," which Swift talks so much about. He had said that he would have a thousand such men before the city hall and the mayor, on his part, had said that he would provide jobs for all who would bring certificates from the election department that they were resident in Boston.—Fall River News.

THE UNCOINED NEW HAVEN

If there was any confidence game or grafting scheme for which the New Haven road didn't "fall" it was seemingly because no one attempted to try back numbers in their methods. They are today in the same category with him who 'also ran.'" This, also, will not endorse the present democratic administration to Col. Roosevelt.—Manchester Union.

LEGISLATIVE LABOR

Four days off in seven seems to be the rule with a large number of members of the Massachusetts legislature, judging by the increasing number of Friday and Monday absences. Our legislators are paid at the rate of about $750 a day for a five-day week. Some of them earn it when they work full time, but many more do not. In any event, it is certain that the members who work only three days a week fall far short of earning their salaries.—Springfield Union.

FLAG BILL

The flag bill passed to engrossment in the Massachusetts house forbids the use of the American flag to attract attention of words, figures, advertisements or designs. Perhaps it's fortunate nothing was said about employing words, figures, etc., to attract attention to the flag.—Brookline Times.

to Obtain Documents Desired
by Inter-State Board

WASHINGTON, May 15.—Former President Charles S. Mellen of the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad, after a conference with Chief Counsel Polk of the interstate commerce commission, left today for New Haven to obtain the documents and papers which the commission desires to have as an elucidation of Mr. Mellen's testimony.

Mr. Mellen told Mr. Polk today that it probably would require at least two days for him and his counsel to go over the mass of papers which he has at his New Haven home and at his summer house in Stockbridge. He is expected to return to Washington next Monday, prepared to continue his testimony Tuesday. In the opinion of Mr. Polk, Mr. Mellen will be on the witness stand for several days, possibly all of next week. Meanwhile, unless some unforeseen incident should intervene, no other witness will be examined.

To Call Directors

The subpoenaed directors of the New Haven, William Rockefeller, Lewis Cass LeMay, George F. Baker and George MacCulloch Miller, have been directed to hold themselves in readiness next Tuesday to be examined.

It is recorded as quite unlikely that either Mr. Rockefeller or Mr. Miller, both of whom have presented to the commission certificates of illness, through their physicians, will appear.

Mr. Rockefeller is at Jekly Island, Georgia, unable, according to the certificate of his physician, to speak above a whisper; Mr. Miller is confined to his home and is said to be unable to transact any business. Mr. LeMay and Mr. Baker both have signed their willingness to testify whenever they may be called.

Chief Counsel Polk conferred today with President Miller of the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad, the electric line acquired by the New Haven through the methods recited yesterday by Mr. Mellen. It is the desire of the commission to obtain a list of the stockholders of the Westchester road at the time of its acquisition by the New Haven, with a view to obtaining direct testimony from at least some of them concerning their dealings with Mr. Mellen and with the late Police Inspector Thomas F. Egan of New York.

Mr. Polk and his assistants were engaged today in an examination of papers and documents by Mr. Mellen. This examination will require two or three days.

It is the present purpose of the commission, notwithstanding the pronounced opposition of Attorney General McReynolds and other officials of the department of justice, to press not only the examination of Mr. Mellen upon all phases of the financial operations of the New Haven and its subsidiaries, but also other witnesses, including New Haven directors, who are assumed to have knowledge of any of the transactions.

Maurice Welch Killed at Vera Cruz by a Sniper
While on Guard
Great Game—Score 11 to 8

Maurice Welch, an Andover boy, was killed Tuesday by a shot from a Mexican "sniper" at Vera Cruz. The young man was the son of Mrs. Mary A. Welch of 74 Summer street, Andover, and a brother of William L. Welch, who is connected with William L. White's auction room on Essex street, this city. Official confirmation of the death was received yesterday afternoon in a telegram from Congressman Michael P. Phelan, Welch was a private in Company A, 19th U. S. infantry.

Welch met his death while on guard on the roof of a building in Vera Cruz on the lookout for snipers. He tumbled from the roof of the building to the ground and was dead when picked up by his comrades. Gen. Fuston reported Welch's death in despatches to Secretary of War Garrison, but failed to indicate his home or next of kin. The details were also missing. William L. Welch, the victim's brother, read a brief account of the death in Wednesday's paper and, fearing that it was his brother, sent telegrams to Congressman Phelan and Secretary of War Garrison. A telegram from the former late yesterday afternoon, confirmed his fears.

PRINTING REFORM BILL

REP. BARNHART OF INDIANA ATTACKS SPECIAL EDITION OF CONGRESSIONAL RECORD

WASHINGTON, May 15.—Democratic economists of the house, including Rep. Barnhart of Indiana, chairman of the house printing committee, were gathered today over the appearance of a special edition of the Congressional Record containing information Senator La Follette desired published on the question of railroad rates. The special edition contained 265 pages, mostly printed in the type, and was devoted to communications from individuals and organizations on the railroad question inserted as "remarks" by the Wisconsin senator.

The greatest abuse of the Congressional Record printing and franking privilege since it has been a member of this house is the way Rep. Barnhart yesterday characterized the publication as computed by the government printing office meant a total cost to the taxpayers of $14,000. "If each of the 531 senators and members of congress were to pad the Congressional Record like that," said Mr. Barnhart, "it would cost the country $1,000,000, and to this would be added the cost of the wrapping and franking necessary to get this publication out to the reading public."

Rep. Murdock of Kansas, progressive leader, protested that Rep. Barnhart was out of order, as he was criticizing a member of another branch of congress, but Speaker Clark overruled the objection.

Mr. Barnhart insisted that the remarkable "speech" illustrated the importance of prompt action on his printing reform bill under which no senator or representative could "padding" the Congressional Record with the insertion of more than four Congressional Record pages without a regularly passed resolution to authorize it.

The Lowell police baseball team went to Lawrence today and played the Lawrence custodians of the pieces in the first game of the police league series and after a great game in which many features were pulled off the Lowell boys came out on the long end of an 11 to 8 score. The game was played on the Riverside park grounds and there was a good crowd on hand, including a number from the Spinale City. Mayor Scanlon was there and he threw out the first ball. The executive hurried the little ball to Mitch Berdial and the game was on. Well, just to show the Lawrence team that the boys from Lowell were there with the bunch, Captain Dwyer's braves hammered out three big runs in the first inning. In the second Lowell added one more and came back in the third with a brace of runs. All this was done while Lawrence was scoring a lone tally, this coming in the third session. In the fourth Lowell failed to count, while Lawrence sent two men over the top. In the fifth Lowell came back strong and before the third man was out three more runs were added to the Lowell score. Lawrence failed to score in their half of the fifth. In the sixth Lowell went scoreless while Lawrence scored twice. In the seventh Lowell got one. Lawrence threatened to take the lead in the seventh, but by fast playing on the part of the Lowell men only three runs were added to the go-ahead team run column. Lowell failed to score in the eighth but added the 11th run in the ninth. Lawrence did not "go" any more runs after the seventh inning.

A feature of the game was the pitching of Malloy for the Lowell team. He was in the form and had his opponents at his mercy during the entire game. He was well supported by Catcher Kenny. The defeated team led both Kethel and Murray in the box and outfield did the catching.

AT OPENING—UPWARD SWING CONTINUED—FIRE MARKET CLOSED

EASY

NEW YORK, May 15.—The upward

during the early trading today. Bullish leaders, taking advantage of the scarcity of stocks shown during yesterday's advance, continued to drive in the shorts. There was a good demand, embracing a wide variety of stocks, with keen bidding for Steel and Reading. Prices in almost every case were higher and while the average advance in the first half hour was not large a few shares rose a point or more.

Stocks were supplied more freely at the higher level established in the early trading and the advance was checked. The market held firm through the forenoon, but little further progress was made towards higher prices.

With quotations one to three points higher on the week's trading, speculators took on more stock, and at times trading was at a standstill. Steel was again the leader. Although there was a demand for other popular shares especially Union Pacific. Foreign exchange rates were again strong. Demand bills sold at 48.25 or about 25 points below the figure at which exports of gold coin are expected. Bonds were steady.

The price level was held slightly over yesterday's close during the mid-afternoon trading, although the market showed more plainly the effect of realizing sales. A few low priced stocks were again strong. De-them as governor and another as vice-governor. He is conversing again the list of names which was before him when he made his first choice. He is anxious now to select someone from the middle west, either Chicago or St. Louis, and someone from New England, to preserve a geographical balance on the board. One of the two to be selected will be a non-resident. The president is not expected to decide for another week. It is unlikely that any of the names will be sent to the senate until the list is completed.

ARRIVED ON LUSITANIA.—NEW YORK, May 15.—Mrs. Thomas J. Boston, formerly Mrs. Grover Cleveland, who has been living in London, arrived in New York today on the Lusitania. She said that she had come only for a short stay in this country.

Another passenger was Joshua Crane, Jr., who competed in the British and Irish court tennis championship.

BEFORE ACCIDENT BOARD

Asked at a hearing held this forenoon under the workmen's compensation act if she would submit to an operation that would leave her minus her right arm from the elbow, Mrs. Vartig Mosakian drew a finger across her throat which was taken to mean that she would rather have the finger severed than to lose her arm.

Mrs. Mosakian lives at 14 Union street. On April 2, 1912, while employed in F. K. Stearns' public laundry in Lawrence street, her right arm got caught in a machine known as the mangle and the machine did just what its name would indicate that it was capable of doing. It mangled her arm, and now, after having spent 17 days in the hospital, the doctors say that amputation is necessary in order to relieve her of the constant pain which she has endured since the day of the accident.

Her right arm from the elbow, and her hand, are so badly crushed and twisted as to render them useless and in order to maintain the pain, it is necessary for her to support the right arm with the left. Here is the most important case to come under the workmen's compensation act in this city.

The Hearing.—The hearing was held in the elderman's chamber of hall beginning at 10 o'clock this forenoon. On the day of the accident Mrs. Mosakian was removed from the laundry to the Lowell hospital where she remained for 17 days. The doctors there wanted to amputate the arm but she would not agree to an operation. Up to date she has been paid 25 weeks compensation at $1 a week.

Albert B. Richards, representing the insurer, the Fidelity & Deposit Company, asked the question as to whether it was total or partial disability and made the proposition that a portion of her arm be taken off and that she be supplied with an artificial arm or portion thereof that she be kept in the hospital until she is able to go to work. That the total expense be borne by the insurance company and that later on the company pay the amount agreed upon by the arbitrators. In other words, if, after the operation she is able to do part work, the insurer must compensate her to the extent of the difference in her earning capacity before and after.

Early in the hearing Mrs. Mosakian stated that she would not submit to an operation and the poor woman broke down and cried several times while the doctors and arbitrators discussed her sad case. That she had the sympathy of everybody in the elderman's chamber was expressed in looks as well as in words. Her husband, John Mosakian, was present and he was asked to talk with his wife and convince her, if possible, that the only hope for her future happiness, comfort or usefulness depended upon an operation, but despite her husband's pleadings the woman still refused to agree to the amputation of the twisted and disabled arm. She drew a finger across her throat and the movement was interpreted to mean that she would prefer to die.

Edward F. McSweeney, representing the Industrial Accident Board, asked the husband what support his wife and three children would have in the event of anything happening to him and he replied that they would have no support. Mr. McSweeney asked the husband if he realized that in the event of his death his wife and children would become paupers and that they would have to be committed to some institution supported by the state and all because she had now trying to do her full duty toward herself, her children and society.

Mrs. Mosakian said by understood and agreed to lay the facts plainly before his wife. He and Dr. Nathan D. Pulsifer, who attended her, went over to Mrs. Mosakian and tried to reason with her but she was obstinate. It was evident that she had made up her mind to keep the disabled member at all hazards and realizing that further persuasion was useless, Mr. McSweeney sought to have the woman understand that it was the desire of everybody interested in the case to do all they could for the injured one.

"This board," said Mr. McSweeney, addressing Mrs. Mosakian, "was appointed to protect your rights and I assure you that we will advise nothing which in our opinion is not for your best interests. The insurance company in making the proposition which I have made is taking a gambling chance. There is the possibility even after the operation that your wife will not be able to do much work and the company would then have to pay her total disability in addition to the expense of the operation and the artificial limb. Even then your wife would be the sinner and she should be made to realize in some way that in order to be relieved of the pain which she declares is constant she will have to have the arm amputated. At the present time she is unable to even dress herself and she has to be assisted at the table. After the operation she would be able to dress herself and would not need any assistance in doing the many little things in the performance of which she now requires assistance. As a thing, mind you, her future is anything but bright and I must say, that in my opinion, the insurance company's offer has been a generous one."

The Board's Findings.—William A. Driscoll of Lowell, appeared for Mrs. Mosakian, Addison M. Goldsmith, of Winchester, for the insurer company; Edward F. McSweeney, of Boston, for the state industrial board; Dr. William C. Mackie also appeared in the interest of the insurance company.

After covering the case very thoroughly the arbitrators agreed upon the following report: First That total incapacity exists at the present time. Second That an operation should be performed and an artificial arm sup-

Testified at Becker Trial Today—Charles Plitt, Becker Press Agent Will be Called

NEW YORK, May 15.—Harry Vallon, fellow conspirator with "Bald Jack" Rose and others in the plot which resulted in the murder of Herman Rosen- that for which Charles Becker is being tried for the second time, under went the ordeal of cross-examination today. He admitted that he had lied on many occasions in respect to the murder, but swore that his story of the events leading up to the crime was correct in its essential details.

Counsel for the defense fired question after question at the witness in an endeavor to show that his testimony connecting Becker with the conspiracy was false. In no important points, however, was the witness' story broken down. It became known today that Charles Plitt, who was known as Becker's press agent, probably will be called as a witness for the state. Plitt is to be used as a corroborating witness to support the stories of Rose, Vallon and Webber. He was not called at the former trial.

SOUTH BOSTON BOY STRUCK BY CAR AND LANDED ON FENDER—ESCAPES WITH SLIGHT INJURIES

BOSTON, May 15.—Joseph Rider, 5 years old, of South Boston, had a very narrow escape from death last evening when he was struck and carried about 300 feet on the fender of one of the Boston Elevated's "snake" cars in Dorchester avenue, South Boston.

SOCIAL AND FRATERNAL

At the meeting of the Passaconaway tribe, 32, Red Men, held last evening in the Old Fellows building, a communication was read from the great chief of records, Alexander Gilman, in regard to Memorial monument to the Indian Sachem Massasoit to be placed in Plymouth, the money for which is to be donated by the individual chiefs in this reservation.

A circular was received from P. S. John R. Haskell of the 130 of West, announcing his candidacy for the position of great junior sachem of the great council of this reservation. A circular was received from the orphan association of this reservation, stating its aims, objects and principles.

A silk sofa pillow donated by Fred Rintam was drawn by Brother R. F. Ellis who donated it back to the tribe whereupon it was again drawn by Brother W. W. Marshall.

At the next meeting, the nomination of stump chiefs will be held. Remarks were made by Brother F. Karp of Quabbin, tribe 26, Port Worth, Mass., and by W. Blodgett of Nashua, N. H., of the 27 of Fitchburg. Remarks by the local tribe's officers were made by the sachem, stump chiefs and others. P. S. G. A. Frost, W. W. Marshall and J. A. Shore were appointed a memorial committee to have the monument in the Edison cemetery properly decorated for Memorial day.

Comforting Words

Many a Lowell Household Will Find Them So.

To have the pains and aches of a bad back removed—to be entirely free from annoying, dangerous urinary disorders, is enough to make any kidney sufferer grateful. The following advice of one who has suffered will prove comforting words to hundreds of Lowell readers.

Mrs. Frances Bamber, 66 West St., Lowell, says: "My kidneys were weak and I suffered from backache and severe pains across my loins. Morning I could hardly get out of bed. It was hard for me to attend to my household and I could hardly stoop or lift. Doan's Kidney Pills, procured at the Jaynes Drug Co., removed the lameness and backache and strengthened my kidneys. Others of the family have used this remedy with good results. The public statement I gave praising Doan's Kidney Pills some time ago still holds good. The benefit I got from this remedy has been lasting."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Bamber had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

OPERA HOUSE
Given every opportunity, a boy will often make no use of it and turn out worse than if he had had to struggle hard for what has come to him without his lifting a finger. When one thinks of the poor little "newbies" and street waifs who would give anything for his chance in life, it gives one a rather indignant feeling all up and down one's spine to see a boy act as Victor O'Flynn does at the opening of "The Tiger," the Viograph feature which is being shown at the Opera House today.

A testament boy is adopted by a rich woman, sent to college and given every advantage. He fails to meet his examinations, and going to work in his stepfather's factory quarrels with the foreman. His stepfather gives him a check for $500 and tells him to leave. The boy does so and meets his real father, a hobo. The experience teaches him a lesson, and he returns to his true home a changed person. This feature picture deserves a generous amount of praise for the moral it teaches, while the photography is well-nigh perfect.

MAUDE ADAMS
Considerable interest is being manifested in the coming of Maude Adams in J. M. Barrie's play, "Peter Pan," at the Opera House next Thursday evening. Maude Adams has been chosen by the number of inquiries at the theatre and the vast number of mail orders for seats which have been received by the management. The play is the heaviest that the theatre has ever known. That there should be so much interest in the coming of Miss Adams is not without reason for the young woman is recognized as the most popular actress on the American stage. She has probably through her personality and the things that she has accomplished done more for the betterment of the stage in this country than any other player now before the public. In presenting "Peter Pan," the actress brings back to life one of the best plays that the stage has had in years. It is one that has had tremendous vogue and which has been enjoyed in England and in this country as a classic that will live forever. While "Peter Pan" is a fairy play and concerns children, it was written by a man for grown-ups and it has never failed to make a man or a woman who will agree to live again in the days of their childhood, when everything was read when the boyhood of William, Indiana, had been both a man and a woman. The little girl of being rescued by some gallant here from an impending danger. The play is elaborately staged and capably acted by a stage company.

B. P. KUTCH THEATRE

If the education of monkeys keeps on, as it has been doing in the past decade, some of the anthropoid apes will be put from the level of man. That isn't the case at the present time, however, and it may never be so, although Prince Florio, who is featured at the B. P. Kutch Theatre next week, is a very intelligent monkey. The bicycle riding is quite phenomenal, and it is really to be doubted that any man could do some of his more remarkable tricks any better than does he. He rides one bike which has a seat set ten feet in the air. Up to the present time he has never had an accident in his difficult work. It is true that monkeys are generally splendid balancers, but Prince Florio has outdone all of them. He has a great deal of skill, Pedro and many of his predecessors beaten in dexterity and sureness. The little fellow dines as would any monkey, but Prince Florio has a cigarette and smokes a cigar and apparently enjoys it. He takes a social class in the most approved manner, and handles a billiard cue like a professional. He runs to the telephone and answers his calls, although he does not chatter out any language. Prince Florio was trained when very young, and no monkey put on the stage has shown such adaptability at so early an age.

Bruce Richardson & Co. give the very funny farce, "Moving Day." Mr. Richardson was formerly with the "Police of 1910," where he made a hit. He is an easy comedian who reveals his character parts. In "Moving Day" he has a part which fits him to a nicety.

THE KASINO

Lowell people generally appreciate and take advantage of their opportunities. This fact is very clearly shown by the thousands of couples have enjoyed dancing on Thorndike hill this week. Today, afternoon and evening, minor's orchestra will play concert programs, to which you are invited. In Boston as guests of the management. The concert proceeds dancing.

He is "Sam Hill," who with his wife goes out to occupy their new flat. They have lived No. 6 Maple street. On the street the painters have been hard at work. The painters have allowed the tramway to be put in place wrong side up. Of course Mr. and Mrs. Hill get into the wrong place, and think they are at their new home. They meet the landlord, who believes his visitors to be the scrubwoman and the janitor, and treats them like servants. Mr. and Mrs. Hill protest but in vain. The street is full of the same kind of situations, which, it is said, are the work of a Lowell boy, in the case.

George W. Cooper and William Robinson are colored comedians who are rated as most successful entertainers. They will present their new conception of music and music called "The Melody Men." It is a real show of fun, served only two very funny colored fun-makers can do. Incidentally, it may be stated that they are the highest paid colored singers and funmakers on the Broadway stage.

Samuel "The fashion plates of vaudeville" will be welcome. Everywhere they go their elegant costumes are envied. Miss Reilly has the latest of creations, and Mr. Sannely is the latest of the twin boys in dress. But the twins have more than mere dress to commend them. They are very classy dancers and patterers of merit.

The first man and a woman are guaranteed to keep an audience guessing. The male of the pair is a splendid female impersonator, and all the close of the act audiences will wonder just which of the two is a man. They sing and dance and introduce a musical number into the act.

Daley & Kramer sing their own songs, including "The Song of the Sea." Several of the best sellers among popular compositions, and will offer some unpublished songs next week. The Aerial Shaws are a well-known musical troupe. The Heart-Salee News Pictorial scenes are worthy successors to the Pathe pictures which have become so much a part of bills this season. The troupe of the two is a man.

Tomorrow afternoon and evening special Sunday entertainments will be given.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

The week's offering by the Merrimack Square theatre players commencing Monday matinee, May 18, will be Brandon Tynan's greatest of all Irish dramas, "Robert Emmet." Not since the days of Boucicault recognized as one of the greatest of all Irish dramatic plays, has a drama of this nature been so much a part of the life of the people. The life and work of one of Ireland's leading patriots. The story of the play is a most interesting recital of incidents and facts concerning the life of Robert Emmet. The scenes of the play include those showing the residence of Maj. Plunkett, a scene of the Wicklow mountains, and the last of the trial of Emmet, who is accused and convicted of striving to overthrow the English rule in the Emerald Isle. His final speech, in which he endeavors to show the true conditions of the people of Ireland, is filled with emotion and is brought to a close, as he is led from the court to his doom, with the words, "Long live Ireland!" The fact that the hope of a century ago is soon to become a reality, in the form of a free Ireland, should interest all Irish people and others concerned in the establishment of Ireland once again a nation. The original production of the play will be as near as possible to the original production, as possible to make it correct in every detail and the results should be most satisfactory. The play will be presented in the role of Emmet and should be a simple opportunity to again see the play. Miss Gladys Malvern, the charming young leader of the cast, will appear in the character of Emmet's wife, with Miss May R. Hurst will appear as "Ann Devlin." Charles Stevens as "Michael Dwyer," the dashing young Irishman, should make new friends, while the other members of the cast will be pleasantly cast. On Tuesday night the members of the various Irish organizations of the city, known as "Irish Aid," will give a special musical program will be given by the Merrimack Square theatre orchestra. A photograph of Stewart Wilson will be given on Monday night to all who have attended previous seats.

The usual excellent social concert will be given Sunday afternoon and night. All new and refined entertainments.

AT THE ROYAL THEATRE

A life attraction has been secured by the Royal management for tomorrow only. It is the story of "The Flying Dutchman," the tragic love story of this beautiful woman is told in two stirring parts. The scenes in which she meets Napoleon, and the wedding of his love are cleverly acted. Later when Napoleon divorces her, another beautifully sentimental scene is shown. She falls at his feet, but in vain, Napoleon has his problems on his mind. He has a great deal of skill, Pedro and many of his predecessors beaten in dexterity and sureness. The little fellow dines as would any monkey, but Prince Florio has a cigarette and smokes a cigar and apparently enjoys it. He takes a social class in the most approved manner, and handles a billiard cue like a professional. He runs to the telephone and answers his calls, although he does not chatter out any language. Prince Florio was trained when very young, and no monkey put on the stage has shown such adaptability at so early an age.

HUERTA PROMISES INVESTIGATION

HARVARD AND YALE IN
ANNUAL TRACK MEET

Yale is Favorite in 23rd Annual Track Meet—Harvard Varsity Nine at Philadelphia—Athletes of Four Maine Colleges Clash at Lewiston

CAMBRIDGE, May 16.—Three varsity teams came here today to compete with Harvard representatives, while the Harvard varsity nine went to Philadelphia and the freshman track team to New Haven. Interest centered in the 23rd annual track meet between Harvard and Yale, with Yale a pronounced favorite. Of the previous meets Harvard has won 12 and Yale 10. The Crimson won in 1912 but Yale was the victor last year at New Haven.

The strength of the Yale team today lay in the field events and some of the middle distance runs. Harvard's greatest hopes were in the sprints, the two mile run and in the hurdles. Capt. Barron's good showing at Hingham last week gave Harvard supporters confidence that he would put up a stiff contest today against Cornell in the hundred yard and 220 yard dashes. The quarter mile run was regarded as likely to be one of the most closely contested events with Brigham of Harvard and Wikie of Yale the leading runners.

Yale also sent her championship class crew to row against the Harvard winning class crew on the Charles.

The lacrosse championship of the northern division was scheduled to be played between Cornell and Harvard, and the Princeton and Harvard tennis teams were to meet.

ATHLETES OF FOUR MAINE COL-
LEGES STRUGGLE FOR HONORS

AT LEWISTON

LEWISTON, Me., May 16.—Fair weather favored the athletes of the four Maine colleges who struggled for honors today at their 20th annual championship meet.

University of Maine was ready with 21 men to make a strong fight to retain the championship which it has held during two of the last three years. Maine's chief competitor was Colby, rather than Bates with which the fight has been during this period. Bowdoin, formerly so strong, was expected to contest with Bates for third place.

The selection of the exact events in which the Maine men should compete was rendered difficult through the cancelling of the annual dual meet with Bates last Saturday. This was needed to determine a number of doubtful cases.

The trials were held during the forenoon and were to be concluded in time to start the finals early in the afternoon.

KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS WAS SOUND OF MIND

There will be some justification at the Knights of Columbus rooms in Anne street on Sunday, May 24, when the forty notes amounting to $4000, which are being held by members as a second mortgage on the property, will be burned, for it is expected that between that time the last payments on the said notes will be made.

When the building in Anne street was purchased theKnights of Columbus devoted members of the society, who devoted notes to the amount of $4000 and took a second mortgage on the property. Since that time a part of that amount has been paid and the last payments will probably be made next week. The notes will be burned at a breakfast which will be served at the rooms of the organization at the conclusion of the mass which will be celebrated at St. Peter's church on May 24.

On that day the members of the Lowell Council, K. of C. will assemble at their rooms in Anne street at 8.30 o'clock and will march to the church in Corham street, where mass will be celebrated at 9.15 o'clock by the chaplain, Rev. W. George Mullin. The men will receive holy communion in a body and at the close of the service they will repair to their club rooms, where a report will be enjoyed followed by a lecture by some noted speaker, and an entertainment. The arrangements for the event are in the hands of a committee composed of the officers of the council. The second degree will be conferred tomorrow afternoon and the third Wednesday evening.

REPLY TO ULTIMATUM
ON THE PARKS CASE

Ambassador Riano Received Despatch From Huerta Government Promising Immediate Investigation of Disappearance of American Soldier—Washington Awaits an Answer—Rebels to March on Mexico City—Silliman Safe

WASHINGTON, May 16.—State department officials awaited today a reply from the Huerta government to the urgent inquiry made by the Brazilian minister in Mexico City, at the request of Secretary Bryan, for information concerning the whereabouts of Private Samuel Parks, Spanish Ambassador Riano today received a despatch from the Huerta government promising immediate investigation.

Mr. Bryan said he had received no proof from the Brazilian envoy that Parks, who went through the Mexican line in his uniform was executed. But it is known that the minister as well as Gen. Funston in Vera Cruz have been told repeatedly that the young private met with a summary execution and that his body had been mutilated and destroyed.

Neither, however, has been able to report to Washington the Mexican rebel commander's account of just what happened. War department officials say they assume Parks met his death in the manner officially reported.

Rebels Hold Tampun
Last night's reports, corroborated today from Vera Cruz by American Consul Canada, that Huerta's east coast of Mexico is in the hands of constitutionalists, raises a question here as to the possible occupation by the constitutionalists of Lobos Island, which lies only a few miles off Tampun. The Huerta highhouse keeper turned over the highhouse to the American naval forces who have kept the light burning.

Highhouse to Huerta
The state department since has adjusted the matter of offering to turn the highhouse back to the Huerta government if they would maintain the light. The appearance of the constitutionalists from their nearby position at Tampun would present new issues, as to carrying out the offer to restore the highhouse to the Huerta keepers or turning it over to the constitutionalists if they occupy the island and large to run the light.

Interest in the mediation program in the Mexican crisis centered in the arrival here this afternoon of the Huerta delegates. President Wilson had scheduled for late today a conference with the American representatives to the mediation meeting at Niagara Falls, Ont.

Secretary Bryan said today that the question of permitting the shipment of arms from the United States to Mexico ports was not before the state department for consideration. In view of Secretary Garrison's explanation that prohibition of further shipment of arms across the Mexican border was done at his direction and applied only to the border it was assumed that no attempt would be made to interfere with any shipment consigned to Tampun or Tampun.

No Arms to Mexico

Secretary Daniels, however, said representatives of two of the largest ammunition manufacturers in the United States conferred with him after the situation became acute in Mexico and assured him that their firms would not send further shipments to either Mexican faction. Mr. Daniels further said these promises from the firms came without any solicitation on his part. The representatives said their consideration of such a course the only patriotic one to be pursued in the circumstances. Secretary Daniels also said that, although naval officers are under instructions to watch out for any arms and shipments to Mexico, none had been reported. No orders have been issued from the navy department with reference to commerce passing into Tampun.

Arguments on Rehearing Heard by U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals

CHICAGO, May 16.—Charles L. Miller, former United States district attorney for Indiana, who prosecuted the dynamite conspiracy case in 1912, appeared again for the government today in the United States circuit court of appeals, when the rehearing on the granting of the new trials to Otis A. Tamm, of San Francisco; Richard H. Boultham, of Chicago; and William Bernhardt of Cincinnati came up for oral argument.

Originally, thirty of the convicted men filed appeals for new trials. The United States circuit court of appeals upheld the conviction of 21 and granted new trials for six. As to three of the latter—Tamm, Boultham and Bernhardt—the government requested a rehearing, which was granted.

Miller said the court had properly held that the general conspiracy had been established and that 21 of the defendants were directly connected with the conspiracy to transport dynamite and nitroglycerine upon passenger trains. The evidence he said, must be largely circumstantial but that "every link in the chain of circumstances is present" and that the verdict of the jury "is sustained by substantial evidence on every material point; that a clear prima facie case was established against Tamm, Boultham and Bernhardt."

The government lawyer next took the cases of the three defendants individually, touching on the evidence brought out in the trial of the case and argued that the testimony was such that the defendants were not entitled to new trials.

Eljah Zolna, for the defense replied that the three men had not been convincingly connected with the conspiracy at the trial and were entitled to a new hearing.

That the "rac and a bone and a hank of hair" is still strutting around in all her artificial enticement. The children call her "the painted lady" and grown people call her less pretty things.

That the lovers of and indulgers in the national game having heard that the bill allowing gardening on Sunday has passed to a third reading have taken heart and will ask the legislature to soften up a bit and allow baseball on the Sabbath.

That the raising of pennants over business houses in Lowell is becoming to be quite a fad, the last to follow this course being John E. Samuels, over whose place of business now dead in the breeze two large blue pennants bearing the proprietor's name.

That ex-Governor Lowe said many years ago, on a memorable occasion, "Home they brought him faster than Adams, over whom the god of beauty wept." How beautifully appropriate it is to the homecoming and subsequent impressive funeral pageant in honor of Corporal Hazerty.

FOR HAGGERTY'S FAMILY

CAMBRIDGE THEATRES WILL GIVE PROCEEDS OF TOMORROW'S CON- CERTS

CAMBRIDGE, May 17.—Shared concerts, the proceeds to go to Michael Haggerty, the father of Corps. Daniel A. Haggerty, who lies buried in the "Honor lot" in the Cambridge cemetery, will be held Sunday evening in the Seaside Temple and the Olympic theatre, Cambridge. Since the death of their son and brother at Vera Cruz the family has been cut off from the regular weekly sum that Haggerty used to send from his pay as a marine on the U. S. S. Florida.

Measurable prominent citizens of the city are planning a statue memorial to place upon the grave to be properly inscribed, giving a lesson in patriotism to all who will view it.

Yesterday the Haggerty grave was filled with flowers from all parts of the United States. One of the tributes, a floral spray of roses and plaques, came from Timothy Murphy, a hotelier, who was near Haggerty when he fell at Vera Cruz, hit by a Mexican bullet. Murphy, himself, was wounded in the night of the landing and when he heard of Haggerty's death he asked his mother to send a tribute.

On the fifth day of this month the following act relative to the analyzing of intoxicating liquors was approved:

Section 1. The state board of health shall hereafter analyze all samples of intoxicating liquors submitted to it for that purpose by any licensing authority, board of health, or police department of any city or town. Such analysis shall be made for the purpose of ascertaining the presence of any poisonous drugs, or other substances dangerous to health.

Section 2. This act shall take effect upon its passage.

(Approved May 5, 1914.)

A military and civic parade was to precede the unveiling.

Announcement that the president would deliver a brief address at the unveiling and review the parade, brought all the members of the cabinet, the diplomatic corps, members of the supreme court and of congress planned to attend. The house of representatives had agreed to adjourn at 2 o'clock in order that members might attend the unveiling and the senate was expected to take similar action.

H. K. THAW AS GUEST DIED IN FISHING BOAT

To Visit Police Officer Stevens at Summer Camp—Will Spend Summer at Gorham, N. H.

CONCORD, N. H., May 15.—Before another week has passed Harry K. Thaw will end his "sight-seeing" sojourn at the Exotic hotel in this city. His custodian, Sheriff Holman A. Drew of Coos county, is also grand master of the Masonic Grand lodge of New Hampshire which meets here next week, and he and his charge will remain here for its sessions. Following its adjournment Drew and Thaw will be the guests of Police Officer Clark B. Stevens of this city, who has been Thaw's constant companion since his arrival at Stevens' camp on Lake Umbagog in Bradford, this state. From there they will go to Sunapee, accepting an invitation to visit Commodore W. A. Hulsey of Newmarket, N. J., at his lakeside home. About June 1 Drew, Stevens and Thaw locate at the Mount Madison house, Gorham, probably for a large part of the summer. Gorham is adjacent to the city of Berlin, Sheriff Drew's home, and is one of the gateways to the White Mountain country.

Thaw, apparently in the best of health, left on a fishing trip with Capt. Samuel Dunham, a Concord fisherman, two days ago. The boat was caught ashore today by Arthur Matthews, a dairy fisherman.

There was no indication that Thaw was due to violence, but that the minor Roberts needed to hold the most to determine the cause.

TO ANALYZE LIQUOR

THE STATE BOARD AUTHORIZED BY LAW TO ANALYZE SAMPLES SUBMITTED BY AUTHORITIES

The number of drunken offenders in police court and the statements of policemen and jail-keepers to the effect that the quality of liquor sold in the grog shops in Lowell is far below standard makes it incumbent upon the local authorities to do a little investigating.

The quality of the liquor is reflected, too, so the authorities say, in the number of detrium tremens cases and there have been many more of these than the public have known anything about, cases developing at the hospitals and the jail.

It is up to the local board of health or the license commission, or both, to see to it that the liquor sold in this city is not loaded with poison. There is a new law now in force to enable the authorities to detect bad liquor.

On the fifth day of this month the following act relative to the analyzing of intoxicating liquors was approved:

Section 1. The state board of health shall hereafter analyze all samples of intoxicating liquors submitted to it for that purpose by any licensing authority, board of health, or police department of any city or town. Baker, apparently in the best of health, left on a fishing trip with Capt. Samuel Dunham, a Concord fisherman, two days ago. The boat was caught ashore today by Arthur Matthews, a dairy fisherman.

CUP DEFENDER VANITIE

MUCH WORK REMAINS TO BE DONE
—YACHT MAY NOT LEAVE BOS-
TON FOR TWO WEEKS

BOSTON, May 15.—So much work remains to be done on the intended cup defender Vanitie that some of the officials at the yard of the builders, the George Lawley and Sons corporation, were doubtful today whether the yacht would leave for Long Island sound before the last of the month and perhaps not in time for the first of the preliminary races, which is scheduled for June 2.

The deck of the yacht is not yet completed, the winches below decks would have to be built, and the hull has to be finished. The yacht is now in the yard of the builders, the George Lawley and Sons corporation, at City Island.

The arrival of a suit of sails at the yard, however, has led to the belief that the Vanitie will have her first trial off Boston light rather than in upper Long Island sound.

It was intended to have the yacht partially raised at the yard, leaving the sliding of the keel and gaff and bending of the sails for the riggers at City Island.

HUERTA DELEGATES ARRIVE

HARVARD AND YALE IN ANNUAL TRACK MEET

Yale is Favorite in 23rd Annual Track Meet—Harvard Varsity Nine at Philadelphia—Yale Athletes Took Early Lead—Fast Time Made

CAMBRIDGE, May 16.—Three varsity teams came here today to compete with Harvard representatives, while the Harvard varsity nine went to Philadelphia and the freshman track team to New Haven. Interest centered in the 23rd annual track meet between Harvard and Yale, with Yale a pronounced favorite. Of the previous meets Harvard has won 12 and Yale 10. The Crimson won in 1912 but Yale was the victor last year at New Haven.

The strength of the Yale team today lay in the field events and some of the middle distance runs. Harvard's greatest hopes were in the sprints, the two mile run and in the hurdles. Capt. Barron's good showing at Ithaca last week gave Harvard supporters confidence that he would put up a stiff contest today against Cornell in the hundred yard and 220 yard dashes. The quarter mile run was regarded as likely to be one of the most closely contested events with Bingham of Harvard and Wilkie of Yale the leading runners.

Yale also sent her championship class crew to row against the Harvard winning class crew on the Charles. The lacrosse championship of the northern division was scheduled to be played between Cornell and Harvard, and the Princeton and Harvard tennis teams were to meet.

120 yard hurdles. First trial heat won by W. F. Potter, Yale; second, W. M. Shelden, Yale. Time, 15.4 seconds. Second trial heat won by C. A. Wilkie, Yale. Second, J. C. Freeman, Harvard. Dan Clohocy and His Hopes the Attraction at Spalding Park—Big Crowd at Game

Dan Clohocy's combination were the attraction at Spalding park this afternoon and some 1100 fans greeted them. The weather conditions were about the best yet handed out to the fans and there was some comfort in watching the game.

Weaver was the star artist for the home team today, while the visitors presented their playing manager, Wilson, who pitched for Worcester in 1911 when Lowell took the pennant away from them.

Empire Black was the decision-maker and he started them off at 3 o'clock. Now, the former Lowell player, who has been with the down-river team since his departure from this city, was not in the game though he played first base yesterday.

The teams started with the following lineup:

LOWELL: Outfield of Burke 2b; Stimpson if; Outfielder of Kelly 1b; Smith ss; Greenhalge c; Weaver p.

Haverhill: Outfield of Burke 2b; Stimpson if; Outfielder of Kelly 1b; Smith ss; Greenhalge c; Weaver p.

THE CHALIFOUX CORNER

THE NEW GOWNS DEMAND MORE OF WOMEN'S SHOES

In the olden days a careful manning woman could wear an old or shabby pair of shoes and no one would be the wiser. Not now. The modern gown reveals the foot and it must be attractively shod. We have assembled a collection of smart shoes, high and low heel and of all leathers, with a large number of novelties among them.

THEY DO SAY

That the Market street district will soon present a different aspect.

That City Messenger Monahan is courtship personified.

That the local builders are more active than many people thought.

That those Westford street cradle holes ought to be fixed up soon.

That Grand Secretary William H. Stafford will be re-elected by the Massachusetts P. of A.

That Attorney Daniel J. Gallagher will make a capable secretary for the state council, K. of C.

That anyway Herbert H. Russell can be referred to as "ex-park commissioner."

That some people riding in an automobile would never tell you of a dangerous spot on the road ahead.

That the white way lighting system in Nashua and Haverhill has Lowell beaten to a frazzle.

That evidence of the necessity of abolishing the grade crossing at Middlesex street keeps a-piling up.

That the fellow who hasn't anything to do but stare at women getting on and off cars is in a bad way.

That Judge Enright has been introduced to the golf links and enjoys the game immensely.

That the dispensary clerk at city hall attends to a number of emergency cases.

That Lowell's civil engineer lost his white shirt at the recent large fire in Dutton street.

That the dining room at the Richardson hotel was beautifully decorated with white pinks on Mother's day.

That the C. Y. M. L. will hold another of its famous ladies' nights Tuesday evening.

That "Jimmie" the A. D. T. boy is a great baseball fan and he knows the game from A to Z.

That if woman cops are adopted in Lowell, most of us know a virago or two whom we'd like to get on the force.

That the fellow who gets most out of life is apt to be called a piker when his back is turned.

That one local young lady now knows why the bend at Tyngshoro is called the "hairpin curve."

That the woman with hips is hip-hip-hooray at last. Her day of triumph has dawned.

That if we keep on getting good the W. C. T. U. will hold its next convention in one of our local hotels.

That Harry Moxley allows that Providence, R. I., won't have anything on Lowell for entertaining the typos of New England.

That Congressman Rogers and Rep. Gilbride were the pinch hitters that saved the day for Lowell and her industries.

That there's a whole lot of feeling in some quarters over the non-appointment of a few of the most capable playground supervisors.

That if Commissioner Donnelly hasn't smiled upon you in his old familiar way of late, forget it. The commissioner has a holl on his neck.

That some explanation ought to be forthcoming relative to the apparent inefficiency of the motor apparatus at the High street fire house.

That the observance of the silver jubilee of the C. M. A. C., tomorrow will be a notable event in the history of this popular organization.

That the gray haired woman who throws a complexion fit on being called "Mother," cannot have a very flattering conception of what mother means.

That there's some sweet Carrol-ing at a Thorndike street residence and the wires are kept hot with congratulations.

That "marry in haste and repent at leisure" is regarded by some as a proverb and by many, alas, as a prophecy.

That though the colored wig fashion has gone out, one still sees some ridiculous shades on the street—especially on the tango order.

That a lady cop would come in handy when it is considered necessary that the officer go to a girl's room and wait in it while she dresses.

That many a Lowell barber shop knows more inside facts on the Mexican question than our state department.

That the woman who took no interest in the child labor bill looked for the cat bill most strenuously. "Every woman to her taste."

That nature does wisely in denying the glory of motherhood to the woman who sees nothing but pills in mother's day.

That the homecoming of the bodies of those seventeen marines and sailors has changed the opinions of some linguists as to President Wilson's Mexican policy.

That in an automobile you never can tell what will happen even on the best road in the world, so it's always good policy to never disconnect the chauffeur.

That President Wilson's simple, eloquent address at the landing of the bodies of the Vera Cruz heroes in New York will go down to posterity as a gem, taking its place with Lincoln's immortal Gettysburg address.

That Rep. Gilbride came back strong at Rep. Channing Cox, the republican floor leader in the senate, when the latter tried to distort his protest on the hunting contract, as a protest against the Wilson administration.

That the "Tae and a bone and a bank of hair" is still circulating around in all her artificial offensiveness. The children call her "the painted lady" and grown people call her less pretty things.

That the lovers of and indulgers in the national game having heard that the bill allowing gardening on Sunday has passed to a third reading have taken heart and will ask the legislature to soften up a bit and allow baseball on the Sabbath.

That the raising of pennants over business houses in Lowell is becoming to be quite a fad, the last to follow this course being John P. Saunders, over whose place of business now that in the breeze two large blue pennants bearing the proprietor's name.

That ex-Governor Long said many years ago, on a memorable occasion, "Home they brought him, fairer than Adams, over whom the god of beauty wept." How beautifully appropriate it is to the handsome and subsequent impressive funeral pageant in honor of Corporal Hascary.

BREAKING OUT ITCHED AND BURNED

On Hands and Wrists. Could Not Put Hands in Water or Do Work. Lost Many Nights of Sleep. Cuticura Soap and Ointment Cured.

Albany, N. Y.—"My trouble began by breaking out like rash. It was on my hands and wrists and itched and burned so that I would have to scratch it. I could not put my hands in water or do my work. The trouble caused me to lose a good many nights of sleep. The trouble lasted a month or two until I heard of Cuticura Soap and Ointment. I washed my hands and wrists with Cuticura Soap and dried them well and then I would apply the Cuticura Ointment on them. I used the Cuticura Soap and Ointment about two weeks and I saw at once that the disease began to leave and in three weeks and a half it was completely cured." (Signed) Mrs. Issah Douthat, Jr., Jan. 1, 1913.

We used hot water and Cuticura Soap then applied Cuticura Ointment every night for three weeks. Two cakes of the Cuticura Soap and two boxes of the Cuticura Ointment completely cured him." In the picture at the left, Senor Luis Elguero, indicated by an arrow, is talking with a newspaper man as the mediator is walking on the dock to the Kronprinzessin Cecilie, bound for America via Havana and Key West. In the picture at the right, Senor Emilio Rabasa is seen leaning on the rail of the ship just before leaving Vera Cruz. Senor Augustin Rodriguez, aged seventy, the oldest of the mediators, kept himself aloof from the photographers at the start.

SULLIVAN U. S. ATTORNEY

HOUSE DEMOCRATS FROM THE BAY STATE UNANIMOUSLY EN- DORSE SALEM MAN FOR OFFICE

WASHINGTON, May 15.—Eight Massachusetts democrats in the house yesterday and unanimously endorsed Michael J. Sullivan of Salem for United States district attorney. This is practically without precedent for Massachusetts democrats in congress. As one of them remarked last evening: "The important news in this is that eight Massachusetts democrats of some prominence have been able to agree on anything." A committee consisting of Peters, Murray and Fiske was designated to inform Attorney General McPherson of the action of the delegation.

The important test will now come as to whether the administration has heard for a unanimous recommendation from the club congressmen. The club are very loyal themselves, that Mr. McPherson will accept of the nomination of Mr. Sullivan. They took several ballots in the agreement was reached and each man voted a candidate from his own district.

Michael J. Sullivan is city solicitor of Salem and a prominent Essex county lawyer. He was endorsed for the office of United States district attorney at a meeting of the Essex County Bar association at Salem last December.

Mr. Sullivan has been prominent in democratic circles of the state and has been active as a campaign speaker. He was born in Salem, Nov. 10, 1876, and was graduated from the Salem High school, from which he entered Boston University law school, graduating in June, 1902. He was admitted to the Suffolk county bar in August following.

SAY OUMET MADE MISTAKE IN ENTER- ING MATCHES PRIOR TO BIG GAMES

OUMET WATCHING HILTON HOLE OUT

French cricket has been severely criticised by golfing authorities in this country for taking active part in the match play previous to the big British championship. The young star was badly beaten by Harold Hilton in a seventy-four hole match for the famous gold cup. This of course tended to shake his confidence and to leave him worry over his showing in the championships. Travers, on the other hand, stayed at Sandwich and continued to practice with the wooden clubs.

FOR HAGGERTY'S FAMILY H. K. THAW AS GUEST DIED IN FISHING BOAT

CAMBRIDGE THEATRES WILL GIVE PROCEEDS OF TOMORROW'S CON- CERTS

CAMBRIDGE, May 17.—Sacred concerts, the proceeds to go to Michael Haggerty, the father of Corp. Daniel A. Haggerty, who lies buried in the "honor lot" in the Cambridge cemetery, will be held Sunday evening in the Seaside Temple and the Olympic theatre, Cambridge. Since the death of their son and brother at Vera Cruz the family has been out of the regular weekly sum that Haggerty used to send from his pay as a marine on the U. S. S. Florida.

Meanwhile prominent citizens of the city are planning a statue memorial to place upon the grave to be properly inscribed, giving a lesson in patriotism to all who will view it.

Yesterday the Haggerty grave was piled high with flowers from all parts of the United States. One of the tributes, a floral spray of roses and lilies, came from Timothy Murphy, a blue-jacket, who was near Haggerty when he fell at Vera Cruz, hit by a Mexican bullet. Murphy himself was wounded in the light at the landing and when he heard of Haggerty's death he asked his mother to send a tribute.

TO ANALYZE LIQUOR

THE STATE BOARD AUTHORIZED
BY LAW TO ANALYZE SAMPLES
SUBMITTED BY AUTHORITIES

The number of drunken offenders in police court and the statements of policemen and jail-keepers to the effect that the quality of liquor sold in the grog shops in Lowell is far below standard makes it incumbent upon the local authorities to do a little investigating.

The quality of the liquor is reflected, too, in the authorities say, in the number of dourium chronic cases and there have been many more of those than the public have known anything about, cases developing at the hospitals and the jail.

It is up to the local board of health for the license commission, or both to see to it that the liquor sold in this city is not loaded with poison. There is a new law now in force to enable the authorities to detect bad liquor.

On the fifth day of this month the following act relative to the analyzing of intoxicating liquors was approved: Section 1. The state board of health shall hereafter analyze all samples of intoxicating liquors submitted to it for that purpose by any licensing authority, board of health, or police department of any city or town. Such analysis shall be made for the purpose of ascertaining the presence of any poisonous drugs or other substance dangerous to health.

Section 2. This act shall take effect upon its passage.

CUP DEFENDER VANITIE

MUCH WORK REMAINS TO BE DONE
—YACHT MAY NOT LEAVE BOS-
TON FOR TWO WEEKS

BOSTON, May 16.—So much work remains to be done on the intended cup defender Vanitie that some of the officials at the yard of the builders, the George Lawley and Sons' corporation, were doubtful today whether the yacht would leave for Long Island some time before the first of the month and perhaps not in time for the first of the preliminary races, which is scheduled for June 2.

The deck of the yacht is not yet completed, the winches below decks for handling the halyards and sheets are yet to be installed and the mast will not be ready for stepping before the middle of next week.

It was intended to have the yacht partially placed at the yard, leaving the stern end of Boston Boat rather than in upper Long Island sound.

HAVING SLOOP DEFENSE

YACHT, May 16.—The going sloop Defense was registered at the Bath customs house today and received its official number, 212,157 and its signal letters, L. D. K. W. New York was given as the hulling port. George M. Pynchon of Greenwich, Conn., was named as managing owner and Captain Selah B. Howell of Highlands, N. J., as master.

The sloop was hoisted to the decks today and the joiners were expected to complete their work tonight. It is now planned to hang the centerboard at 6 o'clock tomorrow morning and on Monday, the sails will be put aboard and, if all goes well, the yacht will leave for Marblehead at an early hour Tuesday morning.

CHARLES S. MELLE on the STAND

That's What Inter-State Board is Attempting in New Haven Inquiry—Folk Suggests Laws

WASHINGTON, May 16.—Just ready some of the methods employed in financing the deals have been shown by Mr. Mellen, but in the opinion of Mr. Folk after an examination of the company's evidence now in hand, the state is to be told will be one of showing financial jugglery and manipulation. In his judgment the facts developed will show the necessity for the enactment by the congress of legislation along these lines:

"The prohibition of a railroad from being immediately interested in any subsidiary of the road with which they are connected.

"To prohibit one railroad from owning stock in another.

"To provide for government supervision of the issuance of all common carrier securities, and,

"To hold common carrier directors criminally liable for mismanagement of the trusts imposed upon them."

Chief Counsel Folk said that neither he nor the commission had received further communication from the department of justice concerning the testimony of Mr. Mellen already adduced, or about to be given. It is the reiterated position of Mr. Folk and the commission that it is more important to prevent in the future such abuses as have been shown and indicated than it is to put anybody in jail. Mr. Folk says frankly:

"The question of immunity is of little consequence as compared to the benefits to the public which will grow out of Mr. Mellen's testimony."

In the view of the commission and of Mr. Folk, suit would be against these interests by which they could be forced to restore money so obtained to the New Haven stockholders. Mr.

Examination of papers and documents now in the possession of the commission indicate, clearly, Chief Counsel Joseph W. Folk pointed out that it became fully a matter of certain financial interests to log up properties which they had been led to believe the New Haven wanted and then unload them onto the New Haven at from two to four times what they paid for them.

DR. SMITH BAKER SPOKE

AT MEETING OF NURSES' ALUMNAE ASSOCIATION OF LOWELL GENERAL HOSPITAL

The regular monthly meeting of the Nurses' Alumnae association of the Lowell General Hospital was held Thursday afternoon at 21 Columbus avenue, with Misses Edith M. Beane, Mabel K. Hall and Lily M. Dow as hostesses. The meeting was opened by a vocal concert.

The speaker for the afternoon was Dr. Smith Baker, who took for his subject "Education and Intelligence." The closest attention of the nurses was held by Dr. Baker, and his talk was thoroughly enjoyed by all present. He said that education is the making of some particular profession or science. Not all educated people are intelligent, a few may be educated, but intelligence is for all. It is the keeping of the mind open to passing events, knowing something about many things, reading a little each day, knowing something of history, biography, art, science and religion, by giving a few minutes each day to standard works on all subjects. Because a woman is not in the world so much as a man is why she should keep up her intelligence.

The list of men who had known, Chastance, Blaine and Lyman Abbott, who were educated as well as intelligent; the little blind girl travelling through Europe describes the great masterpieces because she listens to what is said, as well as the humble schoolmaster, though uneducated, with the aid of newspapers and a dictionary becomes an interesting and intelligent conversationalist. Dr. Baker took his hearers to Berlin into the chamber where Hans Raphael's masterpiece, "The Steiner Madonna" describing it in beautiful word picture, and describing in contrast "The Descent from the Cross," the first picture representing "Life," the second "Death," recommending the reproduction of these two paintings for the adornment of any home.

Thanks were extended Miss Mary Neenath for contributing toward the endowment of a bed in the hospital to care for graduate nurses when they are ill.

After the meeting refreshments were served by the hostesses.

MEXICAN SITUATION

army of Gen. Villa was early active today in preparation for its advance against the federal garrison at Saltillo. The men were in excellent spirits, that the steamer reported was not the Cetina.

There is a keen rivalry between the men of the different brigades and the eagerness with which the commands are proudly displayed. The men are well clothed but are not distinctively uniformed. There is a sprinkling of khaki uniforms, but the greater number wear blue overalls. All wear colored bands on arms and hats with the name of the brigade printed on

The note for Huerta declaring that unless information of the fate of Parks immediately was given the American government would consider it "an unfriendly and hostile act" followed in the wake of two other communications. The last message, drafted by President Wilson and Secretary Bryan, was sent to the Brazilian minister in Mexico City. It was requested to take it up with Huerta to explain the strong feelings of the Washington government over the incident and to make vigorous representations for a definite reply.

Vice Consul is Safe

As the Parks case assumed threatening proportions, another stumbling block in the path of mediation was removed. That was the report to the British embassy from Sir Lionel Carrington in Mexico City stating that John R. Sullivan the American vice consul, over whose safety there had been grave fears, was on his way from Saltillo to Mexico City. There, it was assumed, he would be turned over to the Brazilian legation for safe conduct to the American lines at Vera Cruz. Sullivan had been arrested by federal officials, and although he was reported to have been on his way to Mexico City several days ago, nothing definite had been heard of him until late last night.

Rebels Renew Assurance

The two days' postponement of the mediation conference had the effect of keeping interest centered in the movements of the constitutionalists at Tampico and plans for their southern campaign. Despatches received from Rear Admiral Badger early today stated that the constitutionalists had renewed their assurances of protection for American lives and property at Tampico.

Villa to Attack Saltillo

The constitutionalists already have moved to avail themselves of the advantages of their first season. One of Carranza's confidential agents was quoted as saying that a large shipment of French guns was ready to be moved toward Tampico.

When the embargo on arms recently was restored at Rio Grande points, it was done on a war department order and unless the navy department duplicates it or the president issues a general proclamation, the constitutionalists can get all the ammunition from the United States they want if they ship it through Tampico.

Rebels to March on Capital

Coupled with Villa's activity south of Tampico was Carranza's statement issued at Durango that his general in chief expected to assault Saltillo in a day or two and that while strong opposition was expected yet the outcome was not in doubt. Villa had disposed his troops near Hipolite for the march on Saltillo. Gen. Torres, operating about San Luis Potosi, was expected to attack that federal stronghold immediately. In case of a double victory, he appeared the constitutionalists intended to concentrate about San Luis Potosi to fight themselves for the march on Huerta's capital.

Huerta Delegates Arrive Today

Recent alarming reports over the possibility that Zapata might loose his forces on Mexico City were tempered by Gen. Carranza's statement, which mentioned Zapata much in the same terms as references to the activities of Torres and Villa.

The Huerta delegates to the mediation conference were to arrive here at 10 o'clock today. During their journey from Vera Cruz the diplomats have received several delegations of newspaper men, but their lips have been sealed beyond saying that they had "full power to act."

The trio of South American envoys and the American mission are to leave for Niagara Falls Sunday and it is confidently expected there will be nothing to delay the formal opening of the conference on Wednesday. The Parks case, it was believed, would be cleared before that time.

THE MEXICAN FEDERALS

EVACUATE MONCLOVE, COAHUILA

WASHINGTON, May 16.—That Mexican federals had evacuated Monclove, in Coahuila, and that 600 constitutionalists under Gen. Murguía had taken possession of the town, moving from Ciudad Mier, Diaz, was reported today to the state department.

FURTHER ASSURANCES OF SULLIVAN BEING SAFE

WASHINGTON, May 16.—Further assurances reached the state department today from the Brazilian minister in Mexico City that American Consul John R. Sullivan, who was imprisoned at Saltillo, is en route to Mexico City, but that his arrival has been delayed by interrupted railroad conditions. Latest reports state that he should have reached the Mexican capital last night or early today but that transportation operations were very uncertain.

SUNK IN PANUO RIVER

WASHINGTON, May 16.—Rear Admiral Mayo reported to the navy department today that the Mexican federal gunboat, Vera Cruz, previously reported to have been abandoned, was sunk in the Panuco river at Tamas.

The American admiral added that business of the port of Tampico is being resumed slowly. Two oil ships were cleared yesterday. Traffic is being maintained by the constitutionalists in the town and the surrounding country. No banks are open and money is in extremely scarce.

WASHINGTON, May 16.—The president today nominated B. Sweeney of Seattle, Wash., to be assistant secretary of the Interior.

STREET RAILWAY COMPANY

but the precedent established, will, in the long run, mean a very considerable saving to the city.

The intention of the street commissioner to block pave Gorham street, from Davis square to Manchester street, and Westford street from Chelmsford street to Loring street, caused the Bay State Co. to petition for a relocation of its tracks in both streets. In this petition the company asked that the distance between the tracks be extended from 4 feet 4 inches to 4 feet 10 inches.

At a conference held in the mayor's reception room on Thursday of this week the mayor and other members of the municipal council called attention to the fact that the grant of a franchise to the old Lowell and Nashua Street Railway company (the old horse car line), made it mandatory that the company pay for the paving of space between its tracks.

The franchise in question was granted in 1852. It states that for a space of 18 inches outside of the tracks and 6 inches inside the tracks the company shall foot the bills for paving. The width to be paved at the expense of the railway company in Westford street will be 17 feet 11 inches and in Gorham street, 17 feet 7 inches. The total number of feet in Westford street will be 2420 and 2680 in Gorham street, making a total of 5100.

If the Bay State Street Railway company wanted to block the proposition to have the city do the paving den in Mexico City stating John R. Sullivan the American vice consul, over whose safety there had been grave fears, was on his way from Saltillo to Mexico City. There, it was assumed, he would be turned over to the Brazilian legation for safe conduct to the American lines at Vera Cruz. Sullivan had been arrested by federal officials, and although he was reported to have been on his way to Mexico City several days ago, nothing definite had been heard of him until late last night.

Rebels to March on Capital

Coupled with Villa's activity south of Tampico was Carranza's statement issued at Durango that his general in chief expected to assault Saltillo in a day or two and that while strong opposition was expected yet the outcome was not in doubt. Villa had disposed his troops near Hipolite for the march on Saltillo. Gen. Torres, operating about San Luis Potosi, was expected to attack that federal stronghold immediately. In case of a double victory, he appeared the constitutionalists intended to concentrate about San Luis Potosi to fight themselves for the march on Huerta's capital.

Huerta Delegates Arrive Today

Recent alarming reports over the possibility that Zapata might loose his forces on Mexico City were tempered by Gen. Carranza's statement, which mentioned Zapata much in the same terms as references to the activities of Torres and Villa.

The Huerta delegates to the mediation conference were to arrive here at 10 o'clock today. During their journey from Vera Cruz the diplomats have received several delegations of newspaper men, but their lips have been sealed beyond saying that they had "full power to act."

The trio of South American envoys and the American mission are to leave for Niagara Falls Sunday and it is confidently expected there will be nothing to delay the formal opening of the conference on Wednesday. The Parks case, it was believed, would be cleared before that time.

THE MEXICAN FEDERALS

EVACUATE MONCLOVE, COAHUILA

WASHINGTON, May 16.—That Mexican federals had evacuated Monclove, in Coahuila, and that 600 constitutionalists under Gen. Murguía had taken possession of the town, moving from Ciudad Mier, Diaz, was reported today to the state department.

FURTHER ASSURANCES OF SULLIVAN BEING SAFE

WASHINGTON, May 16.—Further assurances reached the state department today from the Brazilian minister in Mexico City that American Consul John R. Sullivan, who was imprisoned at Saltillo, is en route to Mexico City, but that his arrival has been delayed by interrupted railroad conditions. Latest reports state that he should have reached the Mexican capital last night or early today but that transportation operations were very uncertain.

SUNK IN PANUO RIVER

WASHINGTON, May 16.—Rear Admiral Mayo reported to the navy department today that the Mexican federal gunboat, Vera Cruz, previously reported to have been abandoned, was sunk in the Panuco river at Tamas.

The American admiral added that business of the port of Tampico is being resumed slowly. Two oil ships were cleared yesterday. Traffic is being maintained by the constitutionalists in the town and the surrounding country. No banks are open and money is in extremely scarce.

NOMINATED BY PRESIDENT

WASHINGTON, May 16.—The president today nominated B. Sweeney of Seattle, Wash., to be assistant secretary of the Interior.

That Attorney Daniel J. Gallagher will make a capable secretary for the state council, R. of C.

That anyway Herbert H. Russell can be referred to as "ex-park commissioner."

That some people riding in an automobile would never tell you of a dangerous spot on the road ahead.

That the white way lighting system in Nashua and Haverhill has Lowell beaten to a frazzle.

That evidence of the necessity of abolishing the grade crossing at Middlesex street keeps piling up.

That the fellow who hasn't anything to do but stare at women getting on and off cars is in a bad way.

That Judge Enright has been introduced to the golf links and enjoys the game immensely.

That the dispensary clerk at city hall attends to a number of emergency cases.

That the homecoming of the bodies of these seventeen marines and sailors has changed the opinions of some first-classists as to President Wilson's Mexican policy.

That in an automobile you never can tell what will happen even on the best roads in the world, so it's always good policy to never disconnect the chauffeur.

That President Wilson's simple, eloquent address at the landing of the bodies of the Vera Cruz heroes in New York will go down to posterity as a gem, taking its place with Lincoln's immortal Gettysburg address.

That Rep. Gilbride came back strong at Rep. Channing Cox, the republican door leader in the house, when the latter tried to distort his protest on the hunting contract, as a protest against the Wilson administration.

That the "rarr and a bone and a hank of hair" is still strutting around in all her artificial efficiency. The children call her "the painted lady" and grown people call her less pretty things.

That the lovers of and indulgers in the national game having heard that the bill allowing gardening on Sunday has passed to a third reading have taken heart and will ask the legislature to soften up a bit and allow baseball on the Sabbath.

That the raising of pennants over business houses in Lowell is becoming to be quite a fad, the last to follow this course being John F. Saunders, over whose place of business now float in the breeze two large blue pennants bearing the proprietor's name.

That ex-Governor Long said many years ago, on a memorable occasion, "Home they brought him, fairer than Adonis, over whom the god of beauty wept." How beautifully appropriate it is to the homecoming and subsequent impressive funeral pageant in honor of Corporal Hagerty.

BREAKING OUT ITCHED AND BURNED

On Hands and Wrists. Could Not Put Hands in Water or Do Work. Lost Many Nights of Sleep. Cuticura Soap and Ointment Cured.

Albany, N. Y.—"My trouble began by breaking out like rash. It was on my hands and wrists and itched and burned so that I would have to scratch it. I could not put my hands in water or do my work. The trouble caused me to lose a good many nights of sleep. This trouble lasted a month or two until I heard of Cuticura Soap and Ointment. I washed my hands and wrists with Cuticura Soap and dried them well and then I would apply the Cuticura Ointment on them. I used the Cuticura Soap and Ointment about two weeks and I saw at once that the disease began to leave and in three weeks and a half it was completely cured." (Signed) Mrs. Isahel Boutah, Jr., Jan. 1, 1913.

No. Waterford, Me.—"Our baby broke out on his feet, legs and hands. It appeared as a rash but soon looked like blisters on his feet and hands. He scratched a good deal and was very cross and fretful night and day for several weeks. We had used remedies which seemed to do no good. We used hot water and Cuticura Soap then applied Cuticura Ointment every night for three weeks. Two cakes of the Cuticura Soap and two boxes of the Cuticura Ointment completely cured him." (Signed) Ernest Brown, June 20, 1913.

QUIMET WATCHING HILTON ROLE OUT.

Frank Quimet has been severely criticized for his role in the baseball game. He is said to have made a mistake in entering the field too early, which cost his team the game. The criticism is particularly harsh because Quimet is a well-known player and his actions are closely watched.

The bank's annual meeting was held last evening at the hotel. The assets of the bank have passed the $1,000,000 mark. The meeting was attended by a large number of members and guests. The bank's financial statement for the year was presented and approved.
